Global Stratification and Inequality

Introduction to Sociology

Describe the most important characteristics of wealthy nations, middle-income nations, and poor nations. Explain why it is important to measure global poverty. The poorest, most undeveloped countries were referred to as the third world.